Can battery energy storage systems improve Kosovo's power system?

In conclusion, battery energy storage systems can provide significant benefits to Kosovo's power system.

What is the energy storage project in Kosovo?

On the other hand, Neshati noted that "The Energy Storage Project is the largest energy project in Kosovo in decades and the most significant Battery Energy Storage System (BESS) project in Europe (MW per capita).".

What is Kosovo's Energy Strategy?

In its new energy strategy, Kosovo* vowed to provide reliable, affordable and clean energy to secure economic development and the wellbeing of citizens, who it said would be at the heart of its energy future. The government aims to reach 1.6 GW in renewable electricity capacity and introduce batteries of 340 MWh in total by 2031.

Who owns the energy facilities in Kosovo?

Kosovo* will own the facilities, the ministry added. Economy minister Artane Rizvanolli said the program would back the independence of the national energy system and enable its transformation. The details will be made known after negotiations between the government and MCC, planned for May.

How much battery capacity will Kosovo have by 2031?

Kosovo* intends to launch market-based reserve services and reach at least 170 MW of flexible regulation capacity by 2031. The size of batteries in storage facilities planned to be completed by the end of the period is 170 MW, with an overall two-hour capacity, translating to 340 MWh.

How will Kosovo's Energy System work?

The system will stabilize the fluctuating frequency of electricity, store energy in the early hours of the morning when consumption is low, and connect with solar, wind, or similar power plants. Kosovo* will own the facilities, the ministry added.

In 2017, MCC and the Government of Kosovo partnered to implement a $49 million Kosovo Threshold Program, focused on making energy more reliable and piloting approaches for reducing demand for energy; promoting a data-driven, transparent approach in both the economy and governance; and creating progressive synergies with the private sector and ...
