Malawi is building its first battery-energy storage system to protect its grid from extreme weather, including cyclones that have repeatedly disrupted power in recent years. Why it matters. With over 60% of its 586MW installed capacity reliant on hydropower, Malawi's grid is highly vulnerable to cyclones like Idai (2019) and Ana (2022).

In 2002, our product line was launched focusing on battery cells. Today, we offer various services from customization of our standard battery pack line to one-stop BESS solutions. For over 20 years, BST's longer-lasting batteries and systems have provided critical safety applications, back-up power and propulsion for our customers.

The BESS project, valued as a ground-breaking initiative, boasts a 20-megawatt battery energy storage system, a first-of-its-kind in Africa. Scheduled to be fully operational by June 2025, this innovative system is designed to enhance security and reliability by storing energy during low-usage hours for release during peak demand.

Malawi's first battery-energy storage system marks a vital step toward achieving a resilient and inclusive energy future. By addressing the dual challenges of climate change and energy access, the initiative holds the promise of transforming the nation's energy landscape while setting an example for other climate-vulnerable nations.
