History of CO₂ injection in Trinidad and Tobago. Trinidad and Tobago has been involved in the oil and gas industry for over a century. Our daily oil production has been declining since our peak in 1978 and our fields are now classified as mature. Many methods of Enhanced Oil Recovery have been attempted in Trinidad, including the injection of CO₂.

The findings of the early studies determined that the strongest potential for Trinidad and Tobago to source renewable energy lies in offshore wind, primarily on the north and east coasts. KBR findings indicate a potential to exploit an average of 57 GW of energy from this source alone, equating to a 25-GW energy output when accounting for the ...
