What's the difference between victron & Deye?

This is something to compare. Other thing is the deye has some stupid state of charge monitoring and charging algorithm. Also the deye is 20 years away from victron with programming, softwares, compatibility. Also support is limited. Both can do pylon protocol with accu as far as I know. I'm in this predicament too.

Then, I compare it with something like Deye SUN-12K-SG04LP3 EU. It's a cheap China thing, but it has all in - 3-phase inverter, MPPT charger, supports RS485 communication with batteries, up to 240A charging current. The problem is - the Deye costs 3500 EUR, so I can buy 2 and simply replace it one for the other should anything go wrong.
